中科監察研究員潘麒智指出：「飲食業界對於政府上周四（24日）開始的政策，認為只是戰略放寬，未能讓整個飲食業界受惠，因為現時C類餐廳不足一千間、D類亦只有19間，只佔全港所有食肆總數的5%至6%。政府若不放寬A類及B類餐廳，其實根本等同沒有放寬。倘若要整個業界接種疫苗才全面放寬限制，便是為了谷針，會令業界不滿。」

KC Poon, researcher from the CHINAT Monitor, observed, “The catering industry considers the government’s policy which started last Thursday (24th) to be a strategic move only. There are less than 1,000 Category C restaurants and only 19 Category D restaurants, accounting for only 5% to 6% of the total number of restaurants in Hong Kong. If the government does not relax Category A and B restaurants, it is practically the same as no relaxation at all. If full vaccination is needed before full relaxation for the entire industry, it would be seen as purely a vaccination drive and the industry would be rather discontented.”
